Poetry Project Analysis

Name_____ Date_____ Pd_____

Title and author of original poem_____

Title of your imitation_____

1. Why did you choose this poem to imitate?

2. Explain your use of literary devices in your poem, including rhyme, alliteration, assonance, consonance.

3. What is your theme? Remember, a theme is a universal, complex lesson that is the main idea of the poem.

Title and author of original poem_____

Title of your imitation_____

1. Why did you choose this poem to imitate?

2. Explain your use of literary devices in your poem, including rhyme, alliteration, assonance, consonance.

3. What is your theme? Remember, a theme is a universal, complex lesson that is the main idea of the poem.

Poetry Project Analysis

Name_____ Date_____ Pd_____

Title and author of original poem_____

Title of your imitation_____

1. Why did you choose this poem to imitate?

2. Explain your use of literary devices in your poem, including rhyme, alliteration, assonance, consonance.

3. What is your theme? Remember, a theme is a universal, complex lesson that is the main idea of the poem.

Title and author of original poem_____

Title of your imitation_____

1. Why did you choose this poem to imitate?

2. Explain your use of literary devices in your poem, including rhyme, alliteration, assonance, consonance.

3. What is your theme? Remember, a theme is a universal, complex lesson that is the main idea of the poem.

Poetry Project Analysis

Name_____ Date_____ Pd_____

Title and author of original poem_____

Title of your imitation_____

1. Why did you choose this poem to imitate?

2. Explain your use of literary devices in your poem, including rhyme, alliteration, assonance, consonance.

3. What is your theme? Remember, a theme is a universal, complex lesson that is the main idea of the poem.

Title and author of original poem_____

Title of your imitation_____

1. Why did you choose this poem to imitate?

2. Explain your use of literary devices in your poem, including rhyme, alliteration, assonance, consonance.

3. What is your theme? Remember, a theme is a universal, complex lesson that is the main idea of the poem.

Poetry Project Analysis

Name_____ Date_____ Pd_____

Title and author of original poem_____

Title of your imitation_____

1. Why did you choose this poem to imitate?

2. Explain your use of literary devices in your poem, including rhyme, alliteration, assonance, consonance.

3. What is your theme? Remember, a theme is a universal, complex lesson that is the main idea of the poem.

Title and author of original poem_____

Title of your imitation_____

1. Why did you choose this poem to imitate?

2. Explain your use of literary devices in your poem, including rhyme, alliteration, assonance, consonance.

3. What is your theme? Remember, a theme is a universal, complex lesson that is the main idea of the poem.

Poetry Project Analysis

Name_____ Date_____ Pd_____

Title and author of original poem_____

Title of your imitation_____

1. Why did you choose this poem to imitate?

2. Explain your use of literary devices in your poem, including rhyme, alliteration, assonance, consonance.

3. What is your theme? Remember, a theme is a universal, complex lesson that is the main idea of the poem.

Title and author of original poem_____

Title of your imitation_____

1. Why did you choose this poem to imitate?

2. Explain your use of literary devices in your poem, including rhyme, alliteration, assonance, consonance.

3. What is your theme? Remember, a theme is a universal, complex lesson that is the main idea of the poem.

Poetry Project Analysis

Name_____ Date_____ Pd_____

Title and author of original poem_____

Title of your imitation_____

1. Why did you choose this poem to imitate?

2. Explain your use of literary devices in your poem, including rhyme, alliteration, assonance, consonance.

3. What is your theme? Remember, a theme is a universal, complex lesson that is the main idea of the poem.

Title and author of original poem_____

Title of your imitation_____

1. Why did you choose this poem to imitate?

2. Explain your use of literary devices in your poem, including rhyme, alliteration, assonance, consonance.

3. What is your theme? Remember, a theme is a universal, complex lesson that is the main idea of the poem.